WOODSTOCK NEWS

Base Ball Today.

A game of considerable interest and importance comes off this afternoon, when the Invincibles, under Manager Eugene L. Taylor, play the "Owls" on Vail field. The contest is for the championship of the Maple Syrup league, which was unsettled last year and which has been the chief topic of discussion in semi-professional base ball circles through the winter, spring and early summer.

The Owls have been going at a pretty good clip this season. The Invincibles are more of an unknown quantity, but Manager Taylor's skill, strategy and ability to pick a winning team guarantee the appearance of a fast and aggressive combination on the field today. Beyond saying that Mackenzie and Bean would probably do the battery work, Manager Taylor declined to make public the names of his performers.

Woodstock Gun Club.

The Woodstock Gun club was formally organized, at a meeting held Tuesday evening, officers being elected as follows:

President, Dr. C. W. Kidder; Secretary, F. A. Richmond; Treasurer, W. H. Shurtleff; Directors, Leon F. Miller, Dante Bianchi, Harold Clough.

The club has 20 members and will practice on the fair grounds this season. A trap and clay pigeons arrived some days ago.

Fourth of July Events.

Horse-racing at the fair grounds is the only officially scheduled event in celebration of July 4th. No ball game is advertised. "The Owls" play at Barnard that day, where an athletic meet is to be held, and a carnival of sport is also announced at South Woodstock.

The races at the local track begin at 1 o'clock p. m. The events are: 2.40 class, purse $50; 2.30 class, purse $50; mile heats, best two in three. Colt race; half mile; purse $25.

A good field of starters is expected and the events will be real horse races.

The Hartford Historical Pageant.

The Woodstock railroad will run special trains on Monday and Tuesday for the patrons of the historical pageant at Hartford. There will be four performances, and the entire thirteen scenes will be given in full at each.

WOODSTOCK NOTES

Adjutant-General L. S. Tillotson of St. Albans has issued orders for the annual target practice of the Vermont National Guard at the State range at Northfield, July 5 to 29 inclusive. Col. H. T. Johnson of Bradford will be executive officer. Co. G will report for duty July 12 to 15.

Miss Mildred Partridge is visiting in South Hero, going on Monday accompanied by Rev. Mr. Partridge.

W. Lawrence Marshall of New York was in town over Sunday, bringing his daughter Frances, who will pass the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Marshall.

Grosvenor Dana is passing a week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Grosvenor, in Winthrop, Mass.

The Rev. B. W. Atwell from Newton, Mass., formerly of the Diocese of Vermont, will preach at St. James church July 2. Morning Prayer and Holy Communion at 10:30. Evening prayer at 5:00.

Miss Helen Smythe of St. Johnsbury is expected Monday to pass a few days with her sister, Mrs. H. H. Spear.

Miss Ethel Nutting was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Drew in Randolph.

Of the 200 boys who enrolled in the Y. M. C. A. corn contest only two have dropped out. The entire crop of one of the boys was destroyed by an early-rising pest of some kind.

Mrs. Mary E. Morrill recently visited Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bailey and other friends in Randolph.

Miss Grace Sylvester, principal of the Hinesburg High school, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sylvester, last week, going from here to Burlington, to attend the commencement exercises of the University of Vermont.

Eugene S. Gilbert, a resident of this town all his life, an excellent and industrious citizen, died at his home in West Woodstock, June 19,

FIREWORKS IN WOODSTOCK

Grand Display on Vail Field Tuesday Evening, July 4, Under the Auspices of Co. G.

Woodstock will have a dazzling show of fireworks in honor of the Independence of this Country the One-hundred and Thirty-fifth.

On Tuesday evening, July 4, a grand display will be given on Vail field, under the auspices of Co. G., V. N. G. The exhibition will be in charge of an expert from Boston.

The display will be the largest and best ever given in Woodstock; it can be seen to the best advantage on Vail field, and all Woodstock should turn out for the spectacle.

The fireworks will begin with a bombardment by French rockets, parachute rockets, meteoric floral shells, batteries, etc., and among the set pieces are:

- Italian Sunset.
- Persian Glory.
- The Passion Flower.
- The Tree of Fire.

The final set piece will be "July 4 and the American Flag."

The set pieces are elaborate and beautiful; red fire and rockets will assist in the pleasing program and a large audience will add to the enjoyment of the evening.

from heart failure. He was in his 59th year. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Mary Thomas of North Bridgewater; a daughter, Mrs. F. A. Holt, and a son, Arthur J. Gilbert, the children residing in Woodstock.

Mr. Gilbert was born in Prosper, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. and Madana Thompson Gilbert, and his is the first death among their six children.

A burning chimney at the house on North street occupied by Robert LaMountain called out the fire department and part of the population of the village Monday afternoon. The firemen unreeled their hose, but it was found unnecessary to turn on the water.

Dr. C. L. Dana returned to New York Wednesday.

J. C. Dana of Newark, N. J., is at his summer place, "Quiete," for a week.

Mrs. Mary P. Billings and daughter, Miss Charlotte Billings, arrived at the Page cottage on Mountain avenue last week Thursday.

The next regular meeting of the W. R. C. will be held next Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

The July meeting of the King's Daughters will be held next Monday evening at the usual hour in Mrs. Dana's rooms, Standard block.

Mrs. Payson A. Pierce of Claremont, N. H., was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Benson.

John French of New York was at The Hill over Sunday and attended the commencement week exercises at Dartmouth.

Harold O. Mackenzie, son of Mrs. Oliver H. Mackenzie, and a popular young man, was married at Middlebury Tuesday, June 27, to Miss Rena Hooker of that town. They will make their home in Middlebury, where Mr. Mackenzie has employment.

Max E. Mass, son of George H. Mass, and Miss Edna Hoare of New York city, daughter of Major and Mrs. E. L. M. Hoare, former residents of Woodstock, were married at Newark, N. J., Wednesday, June 28. The wedding took place in Grace church and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles H. Wells, formerly rector of St. James church, of Woodstock. Mr. and Mrs. Mass arrived in Woodstock Thursday afternoon, and after passing a week at Silver Lake, Barnard, will reside here.

Materials for a safe and sane Fourth of July may be purchased at the stores in the village, but noisy and dangerous fireworks must be purchased elsewhere, if used here. The state law prohibits the sale of firecrackers, skyrockets, "serpents" and "squabs." The dynamite cane is likewise banished by law; but other less shocking noise makers will assist in the celebration of Independence day.

Those wishing a quiet day's outing and an opportunity of studying nature and scenery on July 4th, will feel repaid by visiting Dearborn Park, which commands 50 miles of Green Mountain peaks and is some 1600 feet above ocean level. Free use of grove, office, horse sheds and pavilion. The spring house will be opened to the public for free use by visitors at the park.

Mrs. James Nichols died at the hospital at Hanover, where she was taken for an operation, last Sunday. She was 50 years old. The funeral service was held here Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Nichols was born Wallingford, daughter of Henry L. and Ida Crary Willis, who afterward lived for many years in Plymouth. She was married in 1879 to James Nichols, who survives her, and they have passed most of their married life in Woodstock. Seven children were born to them, and all but one, a daughter, are living. The six children are Mrs. J. F. Henry of Bellows Falls, Charles D. and Geo. F., of Woodstock, and three younger children, Genette, Alice and James. Mrs. Nichols had not been well for several years, but worked hard with unselfish devotion to her family, taxing herself far beyond her strength, in their behalf.

Ralph Spaulding was in Rutland a few days this week.

Clayton Royce went to Hanover on Monday, the occasion being a reunion of his class at Dartmouth college.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Benson have had for a guest, Mrs. Payson Pierce of Claremont.

Rev. Mr. Swift, pastor of the Congregational church at Woodstock, will preach at the school-house here tomorrow at 4 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Royce are visiting his brother at Wallingford. Rodger Spaulding is spending a few days with relatives at Royalton.

Windsor County Court.

JUNE TERM, 1911

Hon. GEO. M. POWERS, Presiding Judge
Hon. CHAS. H. MAXHAM, Assistant Judge
Hon. MILES RUCK, Assistant Judge
J. E. PEMBER, Clerk
HOMER L. SKEELS, State's Attorney
J. H. KINNEY, Sheriff
J. H. NIMMS, Reporter

Windsor county court resumed its session at 3 o'clock p. m. on Monday, June 26. Judge Zed Stanton is still too ill at his home in Roxbury to attend to business and Judge George M. Powers, of the supreme court, was designated to take his place.

The docket of civil cases that had been set for trial by jury was called and it was found that 13 cases still stood for trial by jury. Four of these are certainly regarded as doubtful and still others may be continued or otherwise disposed of. The prospects for a long term are not very certain.

Ten gentlemen who had been summoned as jurors were called and duly sworn and instructed by Judge Powers as to their duties and responsibilities.

The first case for trial by jury was that of William S. Pingree, administrator of Electa B. Bean, v. Joseph S. Bean of Norwich, an action of general assumpsit. The trial is expected to occupy several days. William S. Pingree and Homer L. Skeels for plaintiff. Gilbert A. Davis and H. H. Blanchard for defendant.

Amery Boulder of Windsor, 17 years old, pleaded guilty of stealing $13. He had no attorney to defend him. The court directed the probation officer to investigate and report the history of this boy and of this particular offence, and committed the boy to the custody of the sheriff in the meantime.

H. P. CLARK

Ludlow Doctor on Parole.

Gov. John A. Mead has released and placed on probation Dr. Charles H. Bates, of Ludlow, from the house of correction, Rutland. Bates was convicted in Windsor county court of a statutory offence and sentenced for a term of not less than two years and committed in 1910.

The conditions under which he receives liberty are strict. His conduct as a prisoner has been excellent. He will resume his practice and is looking for a suitable location.
